Resident of Railway Place, Fairfield

Dear resident,

RE: Community parking and access survey – Railway Place, Fairfield

We have received a request from residents and businesses to investigate ways to better manage on-street car parking and access in your street. We're writing to let you know that we have started a local parking review of Railway Place between Station Street and Rathmines Street.

What we've been told

Businesses and residents in your street have reported concerns that parking spaces are hard to find due to the nearby activity centre, train station and increase in development in the area.

What we know from the data we've collected

Our parking data and recent site visits shows that there is parking pressure. Of all the parking spaces on Railway Place between Station St and Rathmines St, over 85% were occupied for at least a 5-hour period on a weekday between 8am - 6pm. Moderate parking pressure was shown on Saturdays.

Process and timeline for addressing this request

The steps we will take to assess and develop a solution to this parking change request are outlined in the attached flyer, along with a summary of how parking permits work in Darebin. Currently, we are on step one, and are seeking information from you.

Tell us about your needs by completing the survey

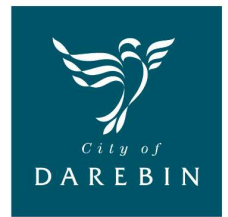

We would like to hear from all residents about parking in your area and any specific challenges or ideas, especially from those people with a disability or special access needs.

Please fill in the online survey;

<https://www.surveygizmo.com/s3/5670509/parkinginyourstreetsurveyrailwayplace> before 5pm on 24 July 2020. If you need a paper survey to fill in, please let me know and I will send you one.

You can help your neighbours by parking considerately and using your driveway or garage where possible.
