Dear resident,

RE: Community parking and access survey - Gillies Street, Fairfield

We have received a request from residents to investigate ways to better manage on-street car parking in your street. We're writing to let you know that we have started a local parking review of Gillies Street between Railway Place and Heidelberg Road.

What we've been told

Residents in your street have reported concerns that people are unable to find a space near their property due to the nearby activity centre, train station and the increase in development in the area.

What we know from the data we've collected

Our parking data shows that there is parking pressure. Of all the parking spaces 12% were free on average during the weekday between 8am - 6pm, and 20% on Saturdays. Recent surveys have also confirmed that there is still high demand for parking spaces that do not have any parking restrictions.

Process and timeline for addressing this request

The steps we will take to assess and develop a solution to this parking change request are outlined in the attached flyer, along with a summary of how parking permits work in Darebin. Currently, we are on step one, and are seeking information from you.

Tell us about your needs by completing the survey

We would like to hear from all residents about parking in your area and any specific challenges or ideas, especially from those people with a disability or special access needs.

Please fill in the online survey;

<https://www.surveygizmo.com/s3/5670536/parkinginyourstreetsurveygilliesstreet> before 5pm on 24 July 2020. If you need a paper survey to fill in, please let me know and I will send you one.

You can help your neighbours by parking considerately and using your driveway or garage where possible.
